

DO it: Facilitator and Trainer

You are an experienced trainer and facilitator who can work with diverse groups to create innovative results

Start date: Join us as soon as possible!

Location: The main location for this position is Berlin, Germany. As DO School programs are delivered on our campus in Berlin and around the world you will have the opportunity to travel as part of this role.

Position type: We are looking for a full-time team member

Let's DO it together.

The world today confronts us with many challenges. But when great ideas are brought to life through entrepreneurial spirit, innovation, and implementation skills, we can make a real difference. In the world of business—and in the world at large.

The DO School is an award-winning social enterprise that believes good business is the best solution to the world's biggest challenges.

Partnering with visionary companies on problems that can't be solved the usual way, the DO School curates entrepreneurial teams around diversity, expertise and passion for the topic, empowering talented individuals to turn their ideas into action.

Working together, company and team innovate and implement high-impact solutions while honing the skills to build a better world.

What you would DO:

Join our experienced program team to take on responsibility in managing, designing and delivering innovative trainings and programs. You will be working with our partners - leading organizations from around the world - to create curricula and programs that will empower the respective program participants to create new ideas and make them happen.

In addition you will facilitate workshops and trainings that motivate and inspire groups of participants and make sure they co-create and implement relevant solutions. Delivering workshops and programs is an exciting opportunity to work with participants from various backgrounds - ranging from young start-up entrepreneurs to seasoned managers of large organizations.

The role requires flexibility and agility in your work style as you will be working on various programs with different partners at the same time. This also means you need to be a good communicator who is driven by a passion for innovation and good business.

Your profile:

- You are entrepreneurially minded, ready to take on a leadership role and excel in demanding environments
- You bring solid facilitation experience based on several years of training and facilitation activities
- You are familiar with experiential teaching / innovation methods like Design Thinking or others
- Ideally you have worked on creating product and service innovations within a corporate setting, either as a team member or consultant
- Ideally you have experience in facilitating innovation processes and familiarity with innovation and workshop methodologies

- You enjoy managing projects and can keep track of timing and budgets
- You have great communication skills that allow you to work with our partners and program participants alike
- You are a team player - co-creation is key for us!
- You speak fluent English and German

That's in it for you:

- The chance to continuously create and try out groundbreaking new ideas
- The opportunity to collaborate and learn from your peers as well as our team of internationally renowned experts
- An entrepreneurial, creative and international team
- An environment in which self development is encouraged
- A high level of responsibility
- A workplace that offers tangible world impact and the chance to actually get stuff done

Application:

We look forward to your application to become part of our DO School team! Our application process is always online, so please submit your application through our application portal.
